ENTAGO.READY CORE

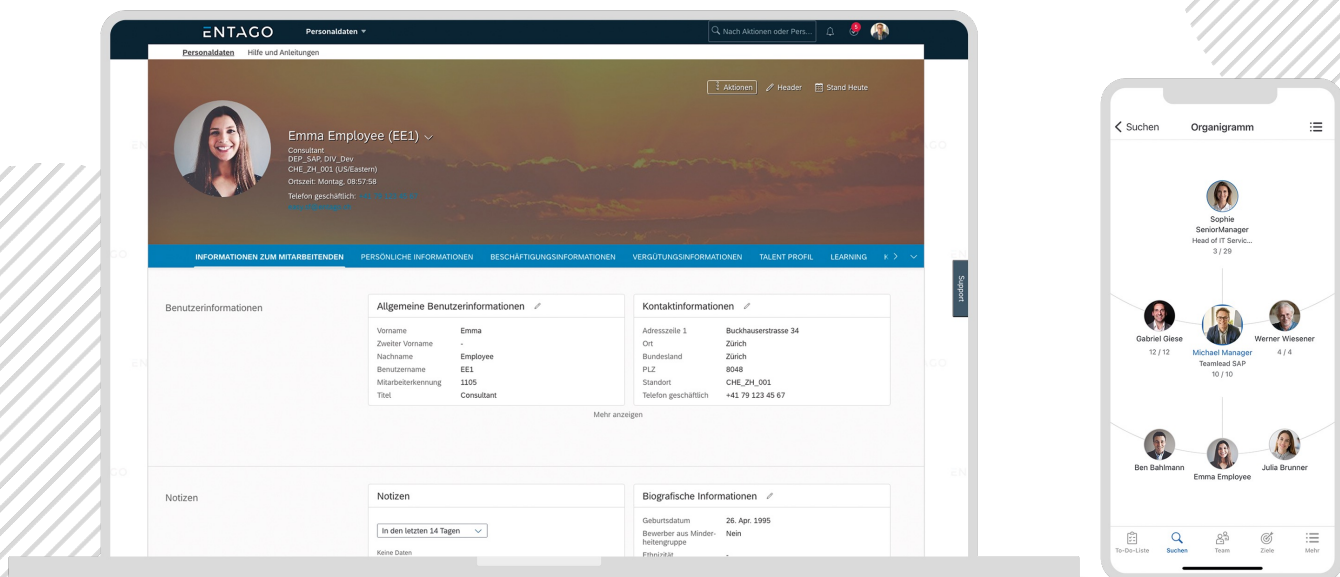

Core HR functionalities

Revolutionise your HR processes with READY.CORE at the heart of the ENTAGO.READY suite. Benefit from smart, state-of-the-art personnel management with centralised control of all company-wide master data. Put your employees at the heart of your personnel work and get an uncluttered overview of relevant information.

It's not always easy to get a handle on the complexities of human resources and to consider the requirements of a distributed workforce. Nevertheless, the goal is to simplify HR processes and create a modern workplace that seriously motivates employees.

How can you provide a centralised HR system that meets both international and Swiss market requirements, all while making your employees feel involved?

With READY.CORE, you can expand the deployment of your HR services while providing personalised experiences to optimise your day-to-day work.

Increase your employees' productivity with a powerful self-service system that enables quick and easy access to important functions. This information can be accessed across all devices. With People Profile, you can keep track of all important HR information that meets your workforce's country-specific requirements.

READY.CORE helps you automate how you manage all services across your entire company. Automate business processes and workflows.

Optimise how you manage master data. Get an overview of the service programmes in your entire organisation and bind your employees with wide-ranging services.
